Johnson Wins Fifteenth; Cashion Allows No Hits

Nationals Capture Double-header from Naps, Aided by Superb Twirling—Vean Gregg Humbled.
Scores, 4 to 2 and 2 to 0.

By WILLIAM FEET.

Clark Griffith's troupe of athletes, nicknamed the Climbers, are going up again. The Old Fox wheeled his charges through the Cleveland lines in the Concrete Coliseum yesterday, won both ends of the dual sketch, and Walter Johnson smashed the American League pitching record. Carl Cashion twirled a no-run, no-hit game. Southpaw Vean Gregg was crumpled up. How is that for one day's damage?

When Walter Johnson got away with his fifteenth consecutive win, one better than the mark established by Jack Chesbro in 1904, when Griffith had the New York Highlanders, the majority of fans sat back in their seats and murmured, "We are satisfied; we have gotten our money's worth," little dreaming that Jay Carl Cashion, the well-known Carolina curver, would amble right along in Johnson's footsteps and set the Forest City gang down without a hit or a run in six innings, and this is just exactly what he did, and the only reason he was robbed of a chance to twirl the entire route was because of an agreement before the game that the Naps should be allowed to depart in time to catch an early express for Boston.

Both games were close enough to keep the spectators keyed up. In the curtain raiser the Naps threatened to annihilate Johnson, uncorking a lot of hits during the closing rounds that made everybody uncomfortable. But the Kansas Cyclone proved equal to the task of routing the Sox, and incidentally it might be mentioned that his support was gilt edged, not a fumble or wild throw being contributed by Walter's pals.

The last effort was Southpaw Gregg and Cashion in the penultimate. A wild streak by Gregg in the second inning, followed by timely swats, sent over a couple of runs and won the game. Cashion's control was almost perfect, and when such sluggers as Jackson and Lajoie are subdued it's a fair guess that the young man who is pitching has something on the ball.

GRIGG FANT NINE.

Vean Gregg also had his south side slants working properly. The Nationals only batted against him for five innings, and during that period nine perished via the strike-out route.

Catcher John Henry, who threw his left knee out of whack more than a month ago, was behind the unloading yesterday for the first time, handling Cashion's delivery faultlessly. The collegian was strapped up like a prize horse for fear of injury, but the hobblers did not prevent him from unloading a timely double to deep left which scored a run. Henry's appearance after his enforced rest, and at this time, has lifted a big weight off Benj. Griffith's mind.

Although Detroit failed to head off Boston in the Red Sox's mad sport for the flag, the Athletics yesterday were nearly stopped by the Chicago White Sox and are now trailing the Nationals three games in the rear.

FIRST GAME.

Griff and Harry Davis engaged in a little jockeying prior to the umpire's call of "play." When the Washington battery was announced the pitcher was Seck, while Cleveland presented Gregg. Griff's object was evidently to force Davis to pitch Gregg against Johnson, for after Seck had retired Ryan, he was chased to the cooler and Walter Johnson entered the box.

Davis also took a hand at jockeying, for he let Gregg pitch to Milan, who then sent in Bill Stein, who twirled the remainder of the game.

Stein looked good until the fifth, when Shanks hit a scorcher through Peckinpaugh, who picked up the ball near the grass and was forced to throw while off his balance. The ball landed somewhere near the stands and Shanks reached second, going to third a minute later on a passed ball. McBride singled to right and Shanks came home.

Foster, the first National up in the sixth, was presented with a base on balls. Moeller came through with one of his old-time wallop, and a line drive to the score board yielded two bases. Gandil lifted a pretty single over second, scoring both Foster and Moeller.

The Nationals' fourth tally came in the seventh. McBride singled and went to second on a passed ball. Almsmith's sacrifice advanced the captain to third and he scored on Johnson's ringing triple through the pitcher's box.

Johnson gave the Naps but three scattered hits until the seventh, when Joe

THE DETROIT TIGERS TO-DAY
Manager Griffith last night announced that he had purchased the release of Kenworthy, the sensational young outfielder of the Denver club of the Western League, and that Kenworthy would be with the Nationals on the next Western trip.

It has been known for some time that Griffith was after Kenworthy, and it is understood that a fancy price was paid for this young man, who is at present leading the league in hitting, and is said to be a whirlwind on the in front of the bat. Kenworthy batted .315 and fielded .570 in sixty-five games. Whether or not Kenworthy and Moran will appear in the line-up before the season closes depends upon the work of Shanks, Moeller, and Griff does not intend to be caught napping, and is guarding against a slump on the part of Moeller or Shanks.

GRIF ADDS NEW FIELDER TO STAFF IN KENWORTHY

Nationals Buy Denver Crack, Who Will Report with Moran for Next Western Trip.

Manager Griffith last night announced that he had purchased the release of Kenworthy, the sensational young outfielder of the Denver club of the Western League, and that Kenworthy would be with the Nationals on the next Western trip.

It has been known for some time that Griffith was after Kenworthy, and it is understood that a fancy price was paid for this young man, who is at present leading the league in hitting, and is said to be a whirlwind on the in front of the bat. Kenworthy batted .315 and fielded .570 in sixty-five games. Whether or not Kenworthy and Moran will appear in the line-up before the season closes depends upon the work of Shanks, Moeller, and Griff does not intend to be caught napping, and is guarding against a slump on the part of Moeller or Shanks.

The Detroit Tigers make their farewell appearance here, starting a four-game series this afternoon. Tom Hughes or Jim Vaughn will be in the box for the Nationals.

The brilliant pitching of Cashion when he shut out the Naps yesterday without a hit in six innings is particularly pleasing at this stage of the race. If Cashion can continue to pitch such ball there is all the more reason to believe that the Nationals have an outside chance to beat Boston. Groom and Hughes can be counted upon to hold up their ends, and with just one more dependable twirler to help out Johnson, all-right pitching, an essential to winning ball games, is virtually assured. It really looks as if Cashion had at last come into his own.

JOE WOOD BEATS THE TIGERS, 6-2

Boston, Aug. 20.—The Red Sox made a clean up of the series with the Tigers by winning to-day, 6 to 2, and incidentally put a crimp in Joan Dubois' string of victories. Joe Wood pitched his twenty-seventh victory of the season, wasting no energy whatever against Jennings' band. Score:

Room for All in the Baseball Contest!

Fans from Everywhere Entering Contest for World's Series Trips.

Live Wires Will Have No Difficulty in Winning.

The baseball contest for free trips to the World Series has been running just a few days, but it has already drawn contestants from nearly every part of the District and the country surrounding.

And It Is Drawing New Contestants Every Day.

Nominating candidates is the principal business of the hour. Of course, every one should be saving the vote coupons now, because even if one has not chosen to enter he may decide to do so later or may find that some friend wants his support. But no votes are good until the candidate has been nominated.

This doesn't mean that there is any trouble about getting nominated. You can nominate yourself just as well as any one can do it for you. All that is required is to fill out the blank printed below and mail it to the World's Series Manager of The Washington Herald. The best time to do this is RIGHT NOW.

The Fans throughout the city are all enthusiastic about the contest, and the enthusiasm out of town is spreading like wildfire. All the real Fans are entering.

Most of the amateur ball players of the city and country are trying for places. They all want to get into that jolly bunch of contest winners who are going to the great games. There is room for every man and youth over sixteen years of age.

Nominations will be held open until some time to come, but you should consider the advantage of getting in on the ground floor in a contest that is bound to draw out such strong competition as this one will. Several Fans are likely to enter from the same neighborhood. Now it stands to reason that the first of them to enter will have the first chance of getting the pledges of all his neighbors to support him in the contest.

Therefore, it behooves you to be the FIRST ENTRANT from your neighborhood.

Not that the campaigns of candidates are to be confined to the separate little sections. The division of districts is for the more equitable distribution of the trips only. Coupons and subscriptions can be secured from every place where they can be found.

A five-vote coupon is printed in The Herald every day of the week except Sunday, when it is good for twenty-five votes. Votes are also allowed on paid-in-advance subscriptions to The Herald. This is fully explained in the vote schedule printed below.

This contest is just an easy, interesting, unlaborious competition for a few weeks, with a reward at the end of it that will be a delight and an inspiration to young men and old. The contest will close October 2, and a few days after that the twenty Fans who shall have obtained the largest number of votes will take their places aboard a special Pullman coach, the car that will be the traveling home of The Washington Herald's guests during the World's Series trip.

Of course, you know that the games cover several days, thus making the trip a real vacation outing, combining the pleasure of travel, jolly companionship, and exciting sport. The best of accommodations will be arranged for the Fans. They will attend the games in a body and will form an interesting and distinguished group in the grandstand crowd. To be the Popularity Champions of the Nation's Capital will be no small honor in the world of sport.

Whenever the opportunity arises The Herald will provide for additional entertainment for the fans during the intervals between the games. You remember, perhaps, that we had a baseball contest last summer—not such a simple contest as this, but the same kind of prizes, only half as many. Well, it rained! How it did rain! Four or five games were postponed, one after another. All this time the Fans who were The Herald guests then were housed and entertained in a leading New York hotel.

The candidate or prospective candidate in the present contest should plan his campaign on the basis of getting as many people as possible to subscribe for The Herald, as this is the best way to secure large numbers of votes.

Every Fan who is really interested in the national game should get busy right off the bat. It will be great sport to attend the games in this way, with all arrangements made for you in advance and the very best of accommodations provided for.

Save the coupons, get subscriptions, and have your friends do the same. Write, phone, or call on the World's Series Manager for information and blanks for getting subscriptions. He has a special department in The Herald office. He is there all day and every evening.

The Voting Coupon Appears Elsewhere in this Paper. Look for It.

Fill out as directed and send to The World's Series Manager, The Washington Herald.
